

OFS Releases Specialty Products and Custom Fiber Solutions Video

Photonics West, Moscone Center, San Francisco, CA. 4 February 2020 - OFS, a leading designer, manufacturer, and supplier of innovative fiber optic products, is pleased to announce the release of its new Specialty Products and Custom Fiber Solutions video. Developed to demonstrate application capabilities and provide a behind the scenes look at the manufacturing process at their Avon, Connecticut facility, this video will be on display at the OFS booth (#327) during SPIE Photonics West being held at the Moscone Center in San Francisco, California from 4 through 6 February 2020.

The Specialty Products and Custom Fiber Solutions video reveals how OFS utilizes leading light management technology to create award-winning optical fiber. OFS also highlights how specialty optical fibers are customized with state-of-the-art coatings, buffers, and cabling materials to be resistant to abrasion, chemicals, radiation, biological exposure, solvents, high-temperature, shock, and vibration.

“The Specialty Products and Custom Fiber Solutions video illustrates the vast capabilities of our products across industries worldwide,” said Steve Allen, Director of Specialty Marketing, OFS. “OFS is continually innovating and investing in resources to ensure our products meet our client’s specific needs, no matter how unusual or complex.”
